LETTER

Hi,

I'd like to introduce you to Claudia Coll, one of the artists on the Blackline Bookings roster.

Claudia is a Valencia-based DJ with a serious musical background: she trained in classical bassoon from the age of six and holds a degree in Sound Engineering. Her sets draw on house, Latin rhythms and US rap, and they're built for high energy.

She's a resident at Latex Club and has played Spook, Marina Beach Club and Tulum in Valencia. In 2025 she won the Mavel Point DJ contest, played Dreambeach and was featured as a Newcomer by Vicious Magazine. She has also played Medusa Festival.

If Claudia could be a fit for your club, festival or event, I'd love to talk it through. Just drop me a line whenever suits you.

All the best,

Arturo Jornet

01 — MY TAKE

CONSERVATORY-TRAINED, FESTIVAL-TESTED, READY TO BREAK OUT

Claudia Coll comes to DJing from the conservatory and the studio: classical bassoon from the age of six and a degree in Sound Engineering. 2025 was her breakout year, with the Mavel Point DJ contest win, a set at Dreambeach and a Newcomer feature in Vicious Magazine. As I see it, the next step is taking her sets to more clubs and festivals outside Valencia.

6
HER AGE WHEN SHE STARTED CLASSICAL BASSOON

1 · MUSICIAN FIRST

Formal training in classical bassoon, a degree in Sound Engineering, and skills on both analogue and digital setups.

2 · THE SOUND

Influenced by house, Latin rhythms and US rap. In her own words, her focus right now is techno and tech house, with a soft spot for Latin tech.

3 · THE FLOORS

Resident at Latex Club, with sets at Spook, Marina Beach Club and Tulum in Valencia, plus Dreambeach and Medusa Festival.

WHY I'D BOOK HER

- Musicality. A conservatory background and a Sound Engineering degree: she brings deep musicality and crisp audio to the booth.
- High energy. House, Latin rhythms and US rap influences in high-energy sets that have worked on floors like Spook and Tulum.
- Proven on a festival stage. Winner of the Mavel Point 2025 DJ contest, with a set on the Mavelpoint Open Air stage at Dreambeach.

No commercial releases yet: she has her own tracks in the works but is focusing on DJing for now. Her calling card is her sets (section 04).

TECHNIQUE, STRUCTURE AND A MUSICIAN'S EAR

Vicious Magazine picked Claudia for its Newcomer feature in issue 94 (September 2025). Here's what the piece, and Claudia herself, put on record.

"Claudia Coll is establishing herself as one of the most solid prospects in Spanish tech house."

THE CLASSICAL EAR

Bassoon at the conservatory gave her what Vicious calls "a solid grounding in harmony, structure and an ear for sound", and a deeper perspective when she creates and mixes.

TRAINED FOR THE BOOTH

She learned to DJ at Yamaha Music School Valencia, on analogue and digital setups, and her sound-engineering training covers recording, mixing, sound design and production.

PERCUSSION AND GROOVE

Vibrant tech house with strong Latin and tribal influences, loaded with percussion and groove. Vicious highlights how she reads the crowd and builds high-energy narratives.

BIG NAMES ON THE BILL

She's played well-known parties like Wassai and Next, sharing the line-up with Cristian Varela, Olivia Bass, Omar Svenson and Miguelle & Toms.

"I hope my name gets heard here... and beyond, too."
