LETTER

Hi,

I'd like to introduce you to DJ Jock, one of the artists on the Blackline Bookings roster.

He's one of Croatia's leading techno names: backed by Carl Cox since 2015, six-time Best Croatian DJ, and a long-time resident at Boogaloo in Zagreb. In 2026 he landed on Drumcode with "Let Loose", made with Adam Beyer.

He's as comfortable headlining as he is warming up for the biggest names, and every year he plays a seven-hour set in Split. On the label side, he's released on Intec, 1605, Suara and Get Physical, and this year he launched his own imprint, Roots Trax.

If DJ Jock could be a fit for your club, festival or event, I'd love to talk it through. Just drop me a line whenever suits you.

All the best,

Arturo Jornet

CROATIA'S TECHNO REFERENCE, NOW ON DRUMCODE

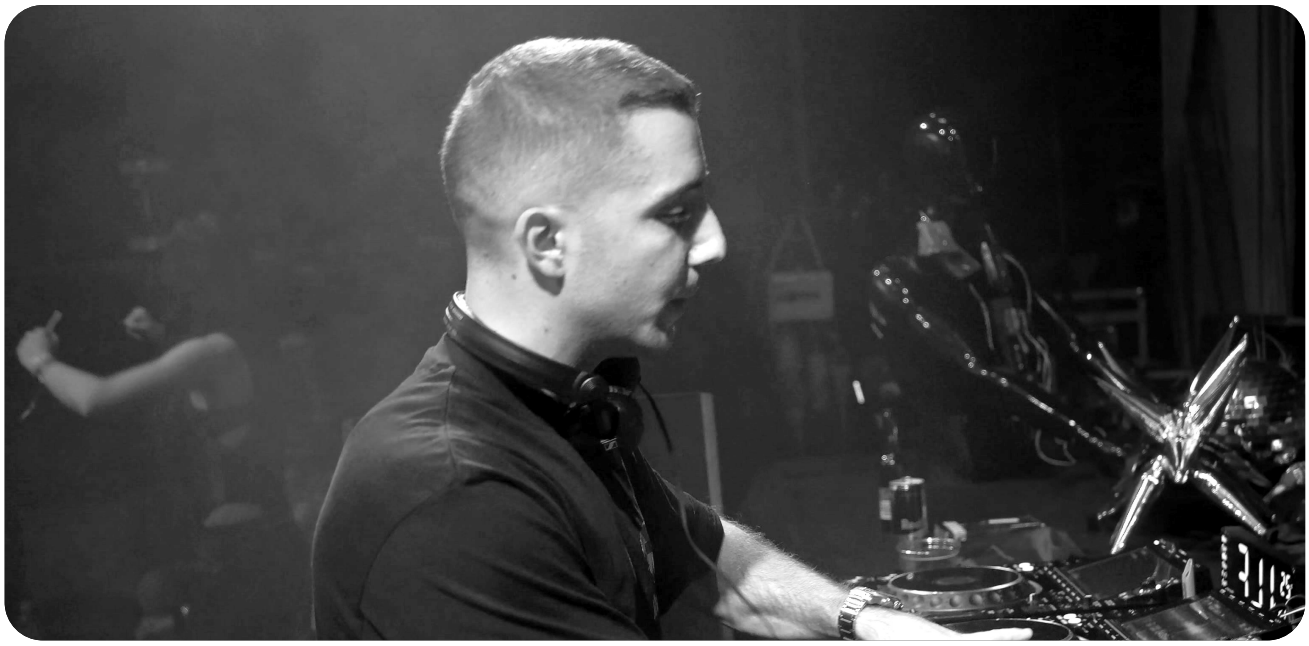

Carl Cox backed DJ Jock in 2015 and signed him to Intec. A decade later he's the name Croatian techno revolves around, and in 2026 he landed on Drumcode with "Let Loose", made with Adam Beyer. He works a room as well as a headliner as he does warming up for the biggest names, and he's ready for more dates beyond the Balkans.

02 — BIOGRAPHY

DJ JOCK, FROM SPLIT TO THE WORLD'S BOOTHS

DJ Jock is one of Croatia's leading techno exports, breaking onto the global stage in 2015 when Carl Cox named him a rising star and signed him to Intec Digital. Six-time recipient of Best Croatian DJ, he has released on flagship labels like 1605, Suara, and Get Physical, while sharing booths with legends including Adam Beyer, Solomun, and Charlotte de Witte. Renowned for his flawless technical skills, long-standing residency at Zagreb's iconic Boogaloo Club, and founder of Split's Roots party series, he also scored the Venice Film Festival-premiered film 'Have You Seen This Woman'. In 2024, he unveiled his raw techno alias JØL on Marco Bailey's Materia label, backed by Ben Sims and Dax J.

> "A real DJ — a magician behind the decks — he leaves no one indifferent, whether performing as a headliner or warming up the night."
